

World War Threatens To Erupt at Any Time, Reece Warns G. O. P.

By the Associated Press
SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 10.—Republican Chairman Carroll Reece said today an "undeclared world-wide conflict" is now raging which "could flare into open hostilities at any moment."

It is the "manifest destiny" of the Republic, he said, to provide this Nation with leadership in the "perilous years just ahead," he said in a speech before the Western States Republican Conference.

He asserted the Democratic Party has permitted a "threatening and pro-Communist faction" to develop within it and through a policy of "economic cannibalism" has brought a cut in productive facilities at a time when American output is needed most.

Mr. Reece said this country must be united and strong at home and to be united at home there must be a national administration devoted to protection of "representative government" and "our liberal free enterprise system."

Names Wallace and Pepper.
Mr. Reece, in contending there is a "pro-Communist faction" in the Democratic Party, referred by name to Henry A. Wallace, former Vice President and cabinet officer, and Senator Pepper, Democrat, of Florida.

He said that if Mr. Wallace had become President "it is highly probable that we would be here today making plans for the next or any other election. Instead we might well be dodging atomic bombs from Eastport, Me., to San Diego, Calif., if, indeed, the time for dodging had not passed."

"If the example of Henry Wallace is not sufficient to convince any one of the existence of a strong pro-Moscow faction within the Democratic ranks," he declared, "I suggest consideration of the speeches and works of Senator Claude Pepper of Florida and several other congressional playmates of Representative Vito Marcantonio. Needless to say, all of those playmates to whom I refer bear the Democratic label."

Gates and Martin Speak.
Mr. Marcantonio was elected to Congress as an American Labor Party member from New York.

Mr. Reece said the Democrats had been "just about as successful" in their "economy of scarcity" in the 1930s as they were in "setting the stage for the food shortages which constitute one of the major causes of our excessively high price level today."

Gov. Ralph F. Gates of Indiana told the Western Republican leaders last night that a Republican victory in 1948 must be achieved to "once more make the voice of this Nation strong in the councils of the world."

Gov. Gates and Speaker Martin addressed a fund-raising dinner preceding the two-day conference.

consent to permit use of eggs in preparation of dishes served on eggless Thursday and use of such meat products as sweetbreads, liver, scrapple and frankfurters on meatless Tuesdays.

LeSavage Clarifies Stand.
Mr. LeSavage, in a telegram to Mr. Luckman today, denied that he was urging adoption of the San Francisco group's plan to junk the Tuesday-Thursday plan, as reported by one New York newspaper this morning. He said he stood on the National Restaurant Association's "unanimous resolution" to "co-operate" in the food conservation drive but did not mention the Tuesday-Thursday issue.

A spokesman for Mr. Luckman, however, in confirming yesterday's conference, said the head of the Food Committee was standing pat in his request for all-out compliance with the Tuesday-Thursday phase of the program. This would indicate an unwillingness to grant any of the concessions asked by Mr. LeSavage.

The local restaurant association originally opposed the meatless-eggless-poultryless days plan, but agreed to "go along" once the President asked for it. Mr. LeSavage, it is understood, did not directly ask that the plan be junked, but he did let Mr. Luckman know that the restaurant groups feel they can save much more by their own conservation program.

Plan for Operators.
The Washington food conservation program includes these steps for restaurant operators:

1. Menu planning: Effective stock-room control, effective portion control, bread and butter only when requested, less expensive meat cuts, fewer scarce foods, more plentiful foods, alternates for wheat products wherever possible, margarine in place of butter, "use tomorrow's leftovers today."
2. Revive the "clean plate club" by serving only the amount of food likely to be eaten.
3. Training program for employees.

CLEVELAND.—RAM JET RESEARCH.—This P-61 Black Widow is used as a flying laboratory to test a ram jet engine, pictured on the plane's undercarriage. Such an engine is used to project flying missiles—but not planes—up to 1,500 miles per hour. The plane uses its own engines to attain speeds approaching 400 miles per hour, then, with the gasoline engines still operating, the ram jet is turned on and tested.

4. Improve sanitation program: Extensive antirad and pest control program.

5. Public relations program: Posters to be used in restaurants together with clip-ons for menus, stressing need for food conservation.

Washington restaurants, for the most part, served eggs and poultry yesterday while hotels complied with the program unless customers demanded eggs, in which case they generally received them.

U. N. (Continued From First Page.)

Russia was in March, 1946, when Andrei A. Gromyko stalked out of the Security Council during the debate on Iran. He stayed away for several meetings, but the Council continued to work and Mr. Gromyko returned.

Veto Proposal Offered.
China submitted to the United Nations Assembly yesterday a proposal for liberalizing the veto by agreement among the big powers without amending the United Nations Charter.

The Chinese proposal was filed in connection with an Argentine proposal calling for a general conference of U. N. members to abolish the veto and another proposal dealing with the 1946 Assembly decision asking the five great powers to use moderation in invoking the veto.

Russia has used the veto 22 times in the Security Council. France has used it twice. None of the other three big powers has vetoed. Some delegates considered also that the Chinese were seeking a way to meet objections to a United States plan for a 57-nation Interim Peace Committee of the Assembly. The Americans have proposed that this "Little Assembly" committee sit the year around and recommend a special session of the Assembly if it felt such was necessary.

have remarked that the "less" days were of "importance." He said that he did not recall having used that phrase, but he said that he might have used it because he wasn't watching his words as closely as possible.

The circumstances under which he used the words—if they were used, he explained—were that a reporter said a Chicago restaurant man had said the meatless and poultryless days were of little importance and that he responded, well, what if they were of little importance, they served as a daily reminder of the things to be done and in that way helped the conservation and the waste-less program.

Compares With Sunday Church.
He was also said to have compared these observances as being something like going to church on Sunday.

The point he was making, the Secretary said, was that saving food one day and wasting it another is "just like going to church on Sunday and then raising hell all the rest of the week."

Mr. Anderson said that he hadn't seen the remarks attributed to him, but that he had heard of them and he was surprised, in view of their tenor, that Mr. Truman didn't react more sharply than he did yesterday. When reporters asked the President about the Secretary's statement, Mr. Truman bluntly said that the saving days were of "vital importance."

Mr. Anderson said there was no transcript taken of his press conference, but "thank God" his remarks were before a conference of insurance presidents yesterday afternoon were carried on a recording machine and that these were a virtual repetition of those at the press session.

Stressed Support Twice.
Mr. Anderson pointed out that twice yesterday he stressed his support of Mr. Luckman—to whom he continually referred as Chuck—and that he had even made a last-minute revision of his speech before the insurance group to make it clear that there was no difference between him and the Citizens' Food Committee head on the program.

He explained that Mr. Luckman was somewhat worried because Mr. Anderson had said the grain conservation move might last until the next harvest while Mr. Luckman was telling the distillers that only a 60-day saving would be necessary.

Mr. Luckman called him in Chicago, he said, because distillers were asking about the possibility of being urged to go beyond the planned 60-day holiday.

Mr. Anderson said that he told Mr. Luckman that there were no differences between them at all, that he wanted to see the saving drive, through which it is hoped to procure 100,000,000 bushels of grain, completed as quickly as possible, and that with proper public support "maybe we could get through our sacrifices quicker."

With that thought in mind, Mr.

$4,648,000 in Drugs Seized On Dutch Ship in Vancouver

By the Associated Press
VANCOUVER, British Columbia, Oct. 10.—Contraband narcotics, valued at an estimated $4,648,000 on the black market, were seized by Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers aboard the Dutch freighter Manoran yesterday.

The narcotics, weighing 415 pounds, were wrapped in several packages and hidden in a winch.

Police said it was one of the largest such hauls ever made in the United States or Canada.

No arrests were made immediately.

11 Face Argentine Trial In Plot to Kill Mrs. Peron

By the Associated Press
BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 10.—Eleven men were held today for trial on conspiracy charges growing out of an alleged plot to assassinate the wife of President Juan Peron.

Federal Judge Juan Maria Louge, who ordered the men held after a preliminary hearing yesterday, said the assassination was to have been attempted when Mrs. Peron appeared on the presidential palace balcony with her husband for proclamation of a law giving votes to women.

The judge held that the assassination had been planned as a step toward an armed uprising against the government.

725 Million Spent By U. S. to Feed Occupied Areas

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—The United States spent $725,000,000 to feed Germans, Japanese, Koreans and Austrians last year—a contribution amounting to $5 for each American.

—William H. Draper, Jr., Undersecretary of the Army, said yesterday.

Mr. Draper told the annual stockholders meeting of the Federal Reserve Board that without this aid millions would have died of starvation in those countries.

At the present time, he said, less than 400,000 American soldiers and civilian personnel are stationed in occupied areas, and the majority are security and service forces with only 15,000 directly responsible for governing the civilian population.

Mr. Draper said industrial production in Japan is now 41 per cent of the typical peacetime period 1930-34.

Stressing the need for building up the industrial exports in these two countries, he said:

"The economic recovery of Western Europe needs German industry and German commerce and German buying power, just as the whole Far Eastern area needs the industrial products which Japan produced before."

Louise Overell Mails Ring Back to Gollum

By the Associated Press
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—The final blow to the romance of Louise Overell and George (Bud) Gollum was apparently struck yesterday when she mailed her engagement ring back to her former sweetheart.

The 16-year-old heiress packed the ring with one of Gollum's Navy dog tags and a small plastic cross and chain and addressed them to her 21-year-old ex-flame at the home of his mother.

Gollum wasn't expected to get it immediately, however. He was camping in the mountains, trying to forget the harrowing 19-week trial after which he and Louise were acquitted of charges of murdering her parents.
